

Ruby Brown Award for Individual Excellence

Named in honor of Ruby Brown, a life-long educator and school librarian, and the main benefactress of MAME.

PURPOSE: To recognize excellence in an individual who has helped promote and integrate the use of library media in the curriculum and to encourage local-level awareness of the importance of media within the curriculum.

CRITERIA: Awarded to an individual within a library media program who has made an outstanding contribution toward, or development of, an especially creative or constructive program that has prompted the advancement of media services.

1. List the activities that this individual has done to help promote and integrate the use of media in the curriculum.
2. List the activities that have been carried out to encourage local-level awareness of this person's activities.
3. List any outstanding contributions toward the development of an especially creative or constructive program that has prompted the advancement of media services.